2 Hospitalized After Crashes

Man Badly Burned In Truck Blaze

Two persons were hospitalized as a result of injuries suffered in two of five traffic mishaps occurring on area roadways during the first half of the four-day holiday weekend.

A 20-year-old Scio, O., man is in serious condition today in Youngstown South Side Hospital with burns over 64 per cent of his body received in a mishap on the County Line Road, two miles south of the Trumbull County line near Lake Milton, at 11:05 a.m. Saturday.

Patrolmen said Roger R. Callahan was burned severely when the northbound milk truck he was driving blew a right front tire, went out of control, crashed into a tree and caught fire. Patrolmen said Callahan had managed to crawl out of the burning vehicle before they arrived on the scene.

A 47-year-old Hubbard woman was admitted to South Side Hospital with injuries sustained in a truck accident on Rt. 62, two and one-half miles southwest of Youngstown, at 8:25 p.m. Sunday.

Helen Pedro, a passenger in the pickup truck, is in fair condition today with injuries and contusions of the pelvis. Another passenger in the car, James Howard, 69, of Riverside, Calif., was released from the hospital after treatment for an injured shoulder and abrasions of the right ear and head.

Patrolmen said the accident occurred when the driver of the truck, Steve E. Pedro, 42, of Hubbard, failed to negotiate a curve, causing his truck to go out of control off the right side of the highway, careen back onto the road and turn over. Mrs. Pedro and Howard were pinned in the wreckage and had to be extricated by passing motorists, the Patrol reported.

The truck received extensive damage, patrolmen said. Pedro was cited for reckless operation. Joyce McMean, 19, of Youngstown, was treated at South Side Hospital for bruises of the chest, received in a two-car collision on Rt. 62, one-half mile east of Rt. 46, at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Patrolmen said the westbound car in which the injured girl was a passenger, driven by Clarence E. Saunier, 44, of Sebring, was struck by an eastbound auto operated by Wafie Anthony Hokayem, 19, of Youngstown, when Hokayem came around a curve on

Chang Resigns S. Korea Posts

Believed To Have Lost Power Fight

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Lt. Gen. Chang Do-yung resigned today from the top posts in South Korea's military government. Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-hi, generally credited with being the strongest man of the regime, was named head of the ruling junta.

Chang's other job of premier was assigned to retired Lt. Gen. Song Yo-chan, burly 6-foot defense minister who was army chief of staff when President Syngman Rhee was overthrown last year.

Chang in a statement said he was resigning because South Korea needs "a leader who is more aggressive and who commands great respect and confidence at home and abroad."

It was generally assumed, however, that he had lost in a struggle for power within the top military leadership.

The resignation was announced after an emergency Cabinet session at which Chang arrived flanked by a heavy guard of 20 plainclothesmen. He left the Capitol building after the meeting under heavy guard, also, but a spokesman for the junta denied that he was under arrest.

Chang, 38, was the front man for the group of officers who on May 16 seized control of Seoul and overthrew the elected government of Premier John M. Chang. Chang's statement was read to newsmen by the junta spokesman and later a recording the general had made of it was broadcast by Seoul radio.

Chang in his statement said the revolutionary government had completed the initial phase of its task and now needed strong implementations of its policies.

Chang held the premiership exactly 44 days. At first he had five jobs: premier; Supreme Council chairman; defense minister; army chief of staff; and martial law commander. He later relinquished the last three.

It had been expected for some time that Pak, architect of the May 16 coup, would replace Chang. The general insisted, however, that he was primarily a soldier and had no such aspirations.

Pak, now known as a staunch anti-Communist, was accused of pro-Communist activity before the Korean War.

2,000 British Troops Stand Kuwait Guard

Saudi Arabian Unit Also Arrives To Bolster Defense

KUWAIT (AP) — More than 2,000 British troops stood guard in Kuwait today, ready to counter any move by Iraq against the little sheikdom.

The last of the commandos and paratroopers arrived Sunday night, completing a two-day landing operation that sparked cries of protest from the controlled press of the Soviet Union and the United Arab Republic.

A force of Saudi Arabian troops also arrived to bolster Kuwait's defense, local military sources said. Its size was not disclosed.

Sends Mission to U.N.

The government dispatched a three-man mission to the United Nations security council in New York to argue Sheikh Abdullah As-Salim As-Sabah's charge that Iraq's claim to Kuwait threatens the independence of the little territory, under which lies the world's largest proven oil reserve.

(Britain told the Security Council her forces would go into action if Iraqi troops crossed Kuwait's frontier. Iraq denied any intent to use force to back up her claim to the sheikdom and urged the council to demand "unconditional and immediate withdrawal" of the British forces.

(Britain's Sir Patrick Dean told the council the British force, landed at the request of Sheikh Abdullah, would be pulled out as soon as the Kuwait ruler "considers the threat to the independence of his country is over.")

The council adjourned until Wednesday, subject to recall in the event of a "new emergency.")

The British force, strengthened by tanks and artillery, dug into a defensive ring in the sun-parched desert north of Kuwait city.

Marine commandos pegged out nets to camouflage their trucks and give them some protection from the 115-degree heat and frequent sandstorms.

The Kuwait-Iraq border was reopened Sunday to road traffic from Iraq, but police were still stopping all border-bound traffic from the Kuwait side. The government imposed censorship on all international cables and phone calls including news dispatches.

Accident Toll Tops Estimates

295 Killed So Far In Highway Mishaps

By The Associated Press

Traffic	295
Boating	29
Drowning	100

Total	484

Safety experts today cautioned motorists that traffic deaths on the nation's highways at the half-way mark in the long Independence Day weekend were running ahead of estimates.

The traffic death toll since the start of the count at 6 p.m. Friday was approximately 25 per cent higher than estimates made by the National Safety Council. The council had estimated that 450 persons might be killed in highway accidents during the 102-hour period which ends at midnight Tuesday.

If the death rate during the first half of the period continues, a council official said, the final toll could pass 550, topping the record toll of 491 during the four-day Fourth of July holiday in 1950.

"This holiday weekend is a period of extra danger," said

Labor Chief Reports on Shipping Strike

Unions Approve Contracts With Some Companies

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—The Cape Cod White House indicated today that Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg has recommended that President Kennedy invoke a Taft-Hartley Law injunction to halt the maritime strike.

Newsmen were told that Goldberg and Kennedy began conferring on the shipping strike at 9:50 a.m. on the patio of the President's summer home here.

A White House announcement added merely:

"It appears that Secretary Goldberg would recommend the use of the Taft-Hartley Law."

Goldberg brought with him a report from the fact-finding board appointed by Kennedy to determine whether the strike, now in its 18th day, imperils the national health and safety.

Goldberg flew to the Cape Sunday night after a conference at Newark, N.J., with chairman David L. Cole and other members of the fact-finding board Kennedy appointed a week ago.

Kennedy set up the board as the first step in machinery provided by the Taft-Hartley Act to stop the strike for an 80-day cooling off period.

The next step would be to instruct his brother, Atty. Gen. Rob-

Stage Set For Hoffa's Re-Election

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Swinging jazz bands and hijinks set the stage today for a special union convention to re-elect James R. Hoffa, 48, to a new five-year term as Teamsters president.

Hoffa, conducting a flamboyant campaign against phantom opposition, fired off verbal broadsides against the Kennedy administration and the AFL-CIO while gearing up for the 1.7 million-member Teamsters for an even bigger role in American labor.

The 2,000 convention delegates were due to hoist Hoffa's salary from $50,000 to $75,000 and rubber stamp his bid for a more than $10-million hike in annual dues funds allotted to run Hoffa's Washington headquarters.

In what sounded like a call to war against other labor unions, Hoffa said he'd use part of the money to organize new members in jurisdictional fields that AFL-CIO unions are letting lie dormant.

"If the Teamsters don't organize, we're dead," Hoffa said.

The former grocery warehouseman said he and the Teamsters have emerged from a barrage of court charges and crime investigations stronger and more militant than ever.

Hoffa assailed the Kennedy administration which he said is conducting a vendetta against the Teamsters and unions generally. He singled out Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg for special criticism. Hoffa said they have a swarm of agents here surveilling the convention proceedings and even buttonholing delegates to try to interfere with Hoffa's re-election.

The special election is required as a final step to let Hoffa get out from the unusual mentorship arrangement that grew out of a court challenge of his initial 1957 election as Teamsters president. That election was challenged as rigged.

Wife Says Shooting Was Accidental

Literary Giant Hemingway Dies Of Self-Inflicted Shotgun Blast

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — Novelist Ernest Hemingway, 61, a literary giant who ranked with the greatest of his age, died of a shotgun blast in the head Sunday.

His wife, Mary, awakened by the shot, found the body clad in pajamas just off the living room of their secluded retreat house.

She called a doctor although death apparently was instantaneous.

"Mr. Hemingway accidentally killed himself while cleaning a gun this morning at 7:30 a.m.," she said in a brief statement read to reporters by a family friend. She was taken to a hospital and given a sedative.

Coroner Ray McGoldrick said it was "a self-inflicted wound" that could have been accidental or otherwise. He said no inquest is planned unless something new develops.

Sheriff Frank Hewitt said authorities planned to talk with Mrs. Hemingway if a doctor permits.

Hemingway's violent death shocked the literary world. There were expressions of profound regret from President Kennedy to his obscure neighbors in Idaho. To Hemingway, this was home

Ernest Hemingway

— a quiet retreat far from the turbulent world of "Farewell to Arms," "Across the River and Into the Trees," "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

It was here that he came to hunt, relax and work. To local citizens he was as well known as the artful bearded hunter as the Nobel and Pulitzer prize winner, the author of the brilliant "Old Man and the Sea."

It was here that he worked on a new major novel, and a book of reminiscences of his youth. A close friend said Hemingway was serious when he boasted he had "a big novel, all about the land, the sea and the air" stashed away in a Cuban bank as "insurance."

It will be here that they lay Ernest Hemingway to rest in private funeral services tentatively set for Friday.

But some of the people he knew around here thought "papa" — as friends called him — seemed a bit distressed and traced it to the recent cancer death of actor Gary Cooper, his close friend and local hunting companion.

"They're both in the barn now," Mrs. Cooper commented when she heard of the death. Hemingway had told Cooper he wasn't feeling well, and the late actor replied: "I bet I'll beat you to the barn." Cooper died in May.

Hemingway, son of a physician, was born in Oak Park, Ill., July 21, 1899, married four times and had three sons. His father, Dr. Clarence E. Hemingway, also

Handy Man Can Put Waste Garage Space To Work

It's difficult to keep a garage uncluttered at most any time of the year. During warm weather it's just about impossible.

Garden tools that were kept together in one spot during the winter now seem to find themselves in a number of spots. Less a storage space for the family car than it is a utility room, play area and catch-all for dozens of items, the garage needs more organization than any other spot around home.

ALL TOO OFTEN A homeowner gives up, leaves the car standing in the drive while lawn mower, tricycle and bundles of old newspapers take over.

Since the garage is generally left in a semifinished or unfinished condition in the inside you'll find that adding shelves and cupboards is uncomplicated.

Right between the studs in open construction there's room for an almost unlimited number of shelves for small items. Make the shelves the same width as the width of the studs.

There's dead space in every garage—space that can't possibly be used by your car. The space over the hood of your car is one such spot. Use it for a large cupboard. Frame the cupboard of 2x4's, hanging the frame from the joists. Then enclose the frame with plywood.

There are number of ways to get rid of garden tools. A strip of wood can be nailed across the studs and spring clips mounted on it for tools.

IF THERE ARE youngsters around and the danger of tools falling, fasten another strip of wood halfway down so that the tools are behind it. You can do this by sandwiching blocks of wood between the ends of the strip and the studs where they are nailed together.

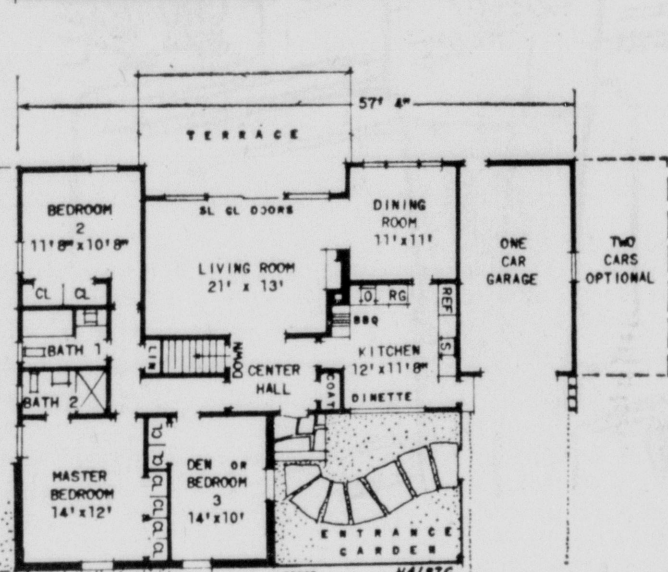

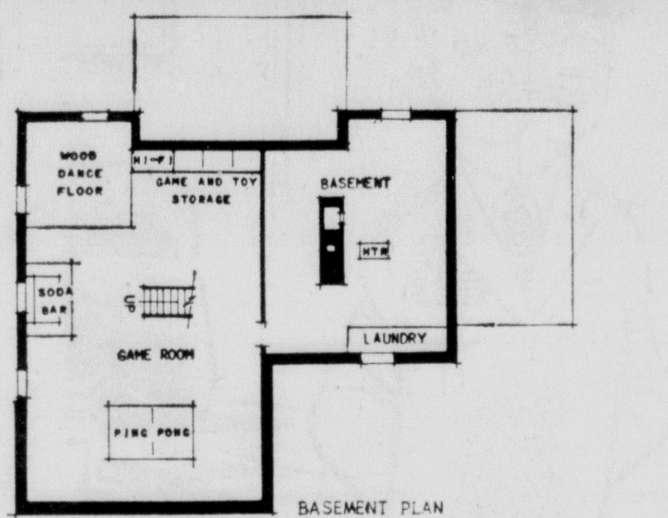

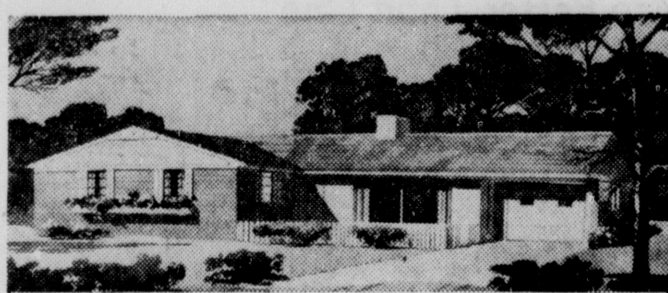

Perforated hardboard with metal clips will also hold tools neatly. Or stretch chicken wire across several studs and pile the tools in behind.

Corners can be taken out of the wasted space category by mounting triangular shaped shelves in them.

Cupboards can be made of 1x8's or 1x12's. Make at least one that has a locking door so that insecticides can be stored safely.

The garage is a good place for a workbench. You're not so likely to put off cleaning and sharpening garden tools if there's a handy place to do the work.

FOR YOUNG FAMILIES — This delightful ranch house offers two or three bedrooms, a large kitchen, dining room and living room with two baths and 10 closets. It's ideal for a young family. The architect is Lester Cohen, Room 75, 117 West 48th St., New York 36, N. Y., and the plan is HA197C.

Summer Is Time To Check Heating Plant, Chimney

One of the joys of summer is the fact that you can forget about heating your house and paying those heating bills.

But don't forget your heating plant completely. Summer is the ideal time for checking furnace and chimney. You have time to get the furnace in proper working order well before the first chill days of fall.

Even if you plan to have professional furnace men do the job for you this is the right time of the year. Neither you nor they are rushed and often there are off-season specials to take advantage of.

Summer neglect can often shorten the life of a furnace more quickly than cold weather use.

Greatest enemy is soot. Sulfur in the soot combines with moisture to form an acid that will eat through smoke pipes.

Leave on Pilot
If you have a gas furnace it's wise to leave the pilot burning all year round. The small amount of heat generated will keep the air inside the furnace dry.

If there's any evidence of dirt clinging to the inside of the furnace the pipes are probably dirty too. Take a section down and check. If they need it disassemble the pipes and clean with a long handled brush. If any pipes are beginning to rust through, replace them.

Gas furnace controls should be checked and regulated by a service man. In some areas the gas company will provide some of this service.

Fill Tank Now
If yours is an oil furnace, this is the time to have your storage tank filled. Not only will it be ready when needed but keeping it filled to the top will prevent accumulations of scale from forming on inner surfaces exposed to air.

Again, some oil companies will check adjustments as part of their summer service.

With forced air furnaces be certain that clean filters are installed before the heat goes on. Lubricate the motor. Check belt tension. Replace the belt now if it looks frayed. Don't wait until some cold evening when every parts store is closed or sold out.

Seal Up Air Leaks
Check over older furnaces especially for air leaks. Seal with furnace cement. Lubricate moving parts. Make certain that smoke pipes and chimney joints are sealed.

If mortar is crumbling between chimney bricks, clean out loose particles and repair with fresh mortar. Open cleanout door and see if the chimney needs cleaning. If you are surefooted and feel secure on the roof clean it out. Fill a sack with straw or excelsior, weight it with a rock and lower it with a rope. shovel out soot from the clean-out opening at the base.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: Our house has a dark green asphalt shingle roof. I have heard that under-roof temperatures can be reduced considerably by painting the roof white. Is this true and, if so, what kind of paint should I use?

ANSWER: Because white reflects much of the sun's heat, it is true that roofs painted white reduce ordinary under-roof temperatures. One estimate (by the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association) is that these temperatures can be cut by as much as 20 per cent when a black asphalt shingle roof is painted white. It is important that a solvent-thinned paint is not used for this purpose, however, since the solvent will dissolve the material and cause it to bleed through the paint. For asphalt-type roofs and for asbestos-type roofs and for asbestos-cement shingles, use a white exterior latex or water-thinned paint. The life of paint on a roof usually is shorter than on a vertical surface, such as a wall. At least two coats should be put on, using a long-handled roller or a sprayer. This additional information for readers who might wish to undertake this project but who have wooden-shingled roofs: use a non-chalking exterior paint. But if the shingles have been stained, prevent the stain from bleeding through by using exterior aluminum paint as a primer. Galvanized metal roofs should be primed with zinc-dust oxide paint, followed with non-chalking exterior paint.

Chicken: Who Swerves First?

In the lively game of international "chicken" getting under way over Berlin, the Western Allies have two fixed disadvantages.

First, Berlin lies deep inside East Germany. The Soviet bloc has the advantage of position. Berlin is a Communist hostage.

Second, the Western Allies have their alliance to worry about but the Soviet bloc has only its own monolithic structure to worry about, unless Red China might have something to say about diplomatic brinkmanship.

It is the problem that goes with an alliance that is most bothersome. The United States may retain its composure about calling the Kremlin's bluff on turning over control to East Germany of access routes to Berlin while the British and French are losing theirs. Or it is conceivable they might keep their heads while the United States was losing its; head. Alliances are not a good bet for cooperation under tension, not even in shooting wars. And this is not a shooting war, but a contest of nerves.

IT IS LIKE the potentially lethal contest that reckless motorists sometimes play on highways — two cars driven toward each other at breakneck speed, to test the nerves of the drivers. The first to swerve is "chicken." He loses face. He is the loser. If neither driver swerves, both are losers. The mischief that started the contest over Berlin was contained in an agreement of the European Advisory Commission in 1944 that created a Berlin area under joint occupation by the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain. The agreement made no provision for guaranteed access to the city.

A year later, the Potsdam Agreement permitted the Soviet Union to annex part of East Prussia and subsequently the Allied Control Council agreed that three corridors for air travel to Berlin be established. There was no absolute guarantee of access to Berlin by land or water. There never has been.

In 1948, the Soviet Union tried to force the Western Allies out of the city by imposing a land blockade. This was frustrated by the Berlin airlift. When that episode had ended, various attempts to secure the rights of the Western Allies were made, but the city of Berlin has continued to be a hostage held by the Communist Conspiracy.

THE WEST has one slight advantage in a showdown. It is the fact Communists in Russia have misgivings about the German Democratic Republic (East Germany.)

To them the vexing problem of Berlin as an escape hatch for millions of East Germans fleeing from Communist rule is as likely to seem like a reason for abandoning Berlin as for hanging on to it.

In the game of "chicken" now shaping up over the Berlin issue, this is the main hope of the Western Allies — that the Soviet Union will not risk a collision but will find a way to avert it at the last minute, secure in the knowledge that Berlin will continue to be its hostage and therefore useful for more bargaining in the future.

Testing a Ticklish Proposition

If Democratic pulse-takers of the caliber of Ohio Gov. DiSalle and his fellow stalwarts of the Democratic party in this state know their political psychology, the Ohio Republican party has cut its throat from ear to ear by paring down the governor's budget recommendations.

As these Democrats see it, not votes can be made by getting tough with executive budget recommendations.

As they see it, Republicans now will be bombarded with Democratic charges that higher education, mental health and welfare and a baker's dozen of worthy causes have been scuttled by GOP "viciousness."

Every economy put into effect anywhere in the state will be pointed to by Democrats, who control the executive department of state government, as proof that Republicans are the enemies of the people. A good deal of this already has been done in a preliminary way by the DiSalle administration, to bring pressure to bear on Republicans to knuckle under and forget their ideas about saving some $40 million out of a plus-$2-billion budget.

BUT OHIO HAS Republicans who pride themselves on political savvy, too. The Republican party carried Ohio last November for Richard M. Nixon against John F. Kennedy. It won a majority in the General Assembly. It has a majority in Congress.

Patriotism

Most holidays bring out the flags and bunting for timely array, but no day should be more sacred than Independence Day tomorrow for Salemites to join hundreds of thousands of other American citizens in proudly displaying the Stars and Stripes.

In these days when communism threatens from without and socialism from within, we need a more impassioned exhibition of Americanism.

Be proud of your heritage. Unfurl the flag in tribute to our American liberties and in reverence to the many who have paid the supreme sacrifice in defending it.

Once Over

"Zippersonic" highway is in the works. U.S. will build a 50 million dollar test road on which motorists drive "no hands" at 100 miles an hour, entire control of car being by electronic guidance. Drivers can sleep at the wheel, says Washington.

(They have been doing this for years, but this will be first time it will be done with federal aid.)

Sort of electric brain is attached to underbody of auto when you drive onto the road. Computing system "punches" your destination and restores control at a given point.

Wonderful feature of all this is that it eliminates arrogance, general discourtesy and killer-diller tactics on highway. Such a highway system could "delouse" our roads. Or nearly so.

Big questions are: Can autoists stand travel without right to get angry, abusive and dangerous?

Is it possible for human beings on pleasure trips to be content when traveling non-violently?

Can auto driver endure having a car more than 10 feet ahead of him? Will he not be upset by realization there is no excuse for snapping at man ahead, denouncing a pedestrian or trying to outfox motorcyclist?

Will he have strength to stand terrible effect of backseat driver making no cracks like "Are you sure we're on the right road?" "I think I smell the engine overheating." "Why can't we pull over for a sandwich?" etc.

Will motorists ever submit to being deprived of chance to weave, stop short, crowd fellowman and otherwise behave like hell? Time alone will tell. (Our bet is that when the automation-highway is opened, we will have to provide automation-control of human impulses.)

FORTY THOUSAND DOCTORS held convention in New York Coliseum. Let's hope they got in without anybody asking at door "Have you an appointment?"

There were movies, TV demonstrations, scientific exhibits, diagrams, carved figures and lectures. These features should have been included: (1) Movie of a patient getting a prescription filled and finding it costs more than the doctor's bill (2) Machine recording the emotions of anybody trying to get a doctor in these days when physicians are up to necks in overwork.

Frank Budd, Villanova man, just ran fastest 100 yards ever traveled by man on foot. It's all the more remarkable when you realize human being could do this with no installment collector, landlord or letterman with a tax bill just behind him.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, new air force chief once declined dinner invitation from subordinates saying: "A commanding officer should dine only with friends, and a commanding officer has no friends."

Secretary of Labor Goldberg, trying to sail course between strikers and ship lines, isn't sure whether its the heavy rolling or the steady pitching that makes it harder. But he knows he could use a gyroscope. Drinking-water is being taken from the sea. Lots of it always served in lunch rooms tastes as if it had been obtained that way.

"Two Heads Are Better Than One"

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

There is in U. S. Tax Court Docket 63763 evidence of our generosity to our Public Enemy No. 1. This document, which I sought out after a televised debate between American newsmen and N. S. Khrushchev's son-in-law, Aleskei I. Adzhubei, proves that the American Communist party

Victor Riesel, one of its publishing houses here owes the United States almost $450,000 in back taxes.

Comrade son-in-law Adzhubei, editor of the official Soviet government newspaper Izvestia, spent much of his time sneering at our press freedom.

It was all in a charming sort of way. Especially when he said that his government signed a nonaggression and mutual aid pact with the Nazis in 1939 because the Soviets would "make a deal with the devil" to gain strength.

This came in answer to a question I put to him. I presume I was rather rude to stir such memories of the Soviet's pro-Nazi era.

But then the Izvestia editor must really forgive me — that is, if members of the Soviet royal family find time for some compassion for us commoners.

After all at the very moment when Comrade Adzhubei and his colleague, Mikhail A. Kharlamov, U.S.S.R. Foreign Ministry press chief, were deriding freedom here, the American Communist party was planning to begin publishing a "daily Marxist newspaper in our country."

SOME OF US had learned that the Communist party USA, meeting in secret on Mid-Manhattan's W. 26th st., had just decided to turn its weekly newspaper, The Worker, into a daily.

The first step in "reconstituting" the weekly into a daily is to begin issuing a "Midweek Worker" soon after Labor Day. This would give the Soviet press in the United States a two-a-week anti-capitalist newspaper. Finally, about the time of the Berlin crisis, it would go daily.

Thus, in effect, the father-in-law, would have a Marxist, anti-capitalist, anti-U.S. newspaper published each day in the United States.

This is rather insulting. However, who would abridge the freedom of any publication? But there is injury added to this insult.

The father-in-law's party and publication in the United States owe our government almost $450,000 in back taxes, penalties and interest — and refuse to pay the money. The Communist party has our government all tied up in our own courts.

It is probably little known, or remembered by those of us who were there, that on March 27, 1946, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) slapped liens in the amount of $389,265.46 on the Communist party and its "Publishers New Press, Inc." This latter is the outfit which published the Daily Worker then and the Worker now.

THESE LIENS technically are called jeopardy tax assessments. They were placed on all known assets of the Communist party, USA. These liens covered "delinquent income and excess profit taxes" on which the propagandists of the Soviet Union simply refused to pay.

In addition, the Daily Worker separately owned the U.S. $46,049. This covered only the years 1951 to 1953. Communist contempt for capitalism, however, did not jaundice the party's devotion to our capitalist dollars.

Everybody refused to pay up. So the government's Internal Revenue Service put liens on Communist party offices and its publishing outfit in New York City, Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Newark.

After available Communist assets were seized, the IRS found them worth $5,192.09. Our Treasury men wanted what was due, nothing more, nothing less, and no restraint on anybody's freedom of the press.

But on Aug. 14, '56, the Communist party's lawyer, John Abt, once mighty active in all-too-trusting labor circles, filed a petition for redetermination of the tax deficiency" set by the IRS commissioner.

On Oct. 3, '56, the commissioner filed a comparatively short reply to the Communists' petition. He offered no briefs. This would have been a waste if the court threw out the party's request for the slicing of the tax claims.

EXPERTS RECKON that it will take at least 100 courtroom hours before the court can decide on the merits of this first petition.

The commissioner decided to wait and see if the court would rule "there was merit" to the petition — enough merit to warrant a trial.

Then the Treasury would move in with briefs. But the Tax Court is heavily jammed and the thought of preliminary proceedings that could take two months worth of the judge's time has caused postponement of the case.

Thus the party not only has not paid its tax, but now is preparing to revitalize its anti-U.S. propaganda apparatus in America.

Now, comrade son-in-law is that not press freedom? And could it happen in the Soviet Union? Do ask your father-in-law, the comrade chairman.

A Test Confusion

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Writer Says JFK Gives Advantage to Soviets

It is amazing how confusing and inadequate some of the information can be that is given out in a presidential press conference. All that the newspaper dispatches thus far have really told the American people is that President Kennedy has asked a special panel of scientists to find out for him whether the Russians can carry on underground testing of nuclear weapons without our knowledge.

The truth is that the President's announcement is just a maneuver designed to allay for a while the clamor for a resumption of testing. Indeed, the United States government knows, and has known for more than two years, that tests can be conducted underground without detection. Even above ground tests are never announced by the Soviets unless they have been detected by other countries.

The real question today is what the President is going to do about it, and whether he will authorize a resumption at least of underground tests, as has been demanded in recent months by public opinion and reflected by speeches by the members of both parties in Congress.

Mr. Kennedy's action, however, means more delay and more procrastination. He is unwittingly giving an advantage to the Soviets, who want more talk and more time consumed while they keep the United States from doing any testing as they continue to carry on their clandestine experiments.

Another factor causing a raising of eyebrows is that the Atomic Energy Commission, which is supposed to be the center of the whole nuclear-research problem, isn't mentioned by the President as having any voice in the decisions he is about to make.

He has called in outside scientists—including presumably some of the men who mistakenly place faith in Soviet assurances that they will refrain from testing.

THE RECORD of what happened under the Eisenhower administration and the conditions under which it agreed to a voluntary suspension of testing of all kinds — above and below the ground — has perhaps not been studied carefully by President Kennedy.

There seems no other way to explain his latest statement announcing the plan to set up a special panel of scientists to take a look "at the serious questions" involved. Here are the "questions in particular" which Mr. Kennedy is asking the panel to answer:

"First, what is the extent of our information on whether the Soviet Union has been or could be engaged in secret testing of nuclear weapons?"

"Second, to the extent that certain types of tests can be concealed by the Soviet Union, what technical progress in weapons could be under way in that area without our knowledge?"

The President says the answers will be reviewed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the National Security Council, but significantly he omits reference to advice from the Atomic Energy Commission.

Mr. Kennedy, in answering a reporter's question, conceded that the United States has no information on the subject of whether the Soviets have been testing and says what he really wants to know is "if it is possible that they could be testing without our knowing and what the chances are that that might be true."

THE ANSWER to that question has already been furnished to Congress. A Senate document of hearings on April 1 and 17, 1958, at which scientists testified, tells us that there had been one underground shot by the United States and that it occurred in Nevada.

A seismic station in Alaska, which had been notified in advance of the exact time to expect it, picked up the signal of the blast.

The tape recording of that explosion shows that the "wiggles" were smaller than for some earthquakes and other disturbances, and that it would be impossible to differentiate as between underground-nuclear-test marks shown on the recording and those made by an earthquake or other disturbance, such as the winds against the cliffs in the Aleutian Islands.

There is an average of 200 earthquakes a year in the Soviet Union which make the same markings on a seismic tape as do large-scale explosions.

As a matter of fact, six months after the negotiations on the test ban began at Geneva, American experts had to admit to the Soviets that we had been wrong in our previous assumption that underground tests are detectable and could not be concealed.

Will some of these same experts now be asked to decide the all-important questions involving judgment rather than technical matters?

THE UNITED STATES has already made one mistake in voluntarily agreeing to a suspension of testing on the assumption that the Soviets would do likewise and that they could be checked upon to determine if there was any cheating.

In fact, the current negotiations were started entirely in that belief.

Now the United States knows that underground tests can be concealed by any nation intent on doing so but the President still is reluctant to resume testing.

This is exactly what the Soviets want America to do — to maintain the test ban indefinitely while they go ahead to perfect weapons of greater and greater powers, such as the so-called neutron bomb.

The president wedded at the youngest age was Andrew Johnson. He married Eliza McCord when he was only 18 years and 127 days old. Of five U.S. presidents who remarried, Theodore Roosevelt did so at the earliest age. He was 28 years and 36 days old when Edith Kermit Carow became his second wife.

Safety note: Throughout the year, nine persons are killed ev-

One of the pleasant things about living longer today is that you have plenty of company America now has nearly a million persons 85 or older. (Life expectancy since 1920 has leaped from 54.1 to 69.7 years.)

Need Warm Days To Bring Averages Up To Normal

Temperatures have been three degrees a day under normal for the past six months, according to District Weather Observer Edwin Copeland, who pointed out today that the month of June was lacking a bit in both warmth and precipitation.

Rainfall for the first half of the year, however, is 0.75 inches above average.

The temperature average for June was 63.4 degrees, which was under the 65 degrees of June 1960, and beneath the 66.8 degree average for the past 68 years that the county weather station at Millport has been in operation.

Rainfall last month measured 3.17 inches compared to 4.49 inches a year ago and the average of 4.02.

Sunshine last month measured 60 per cent, whereas last June it was 65 per cent, Copeland added.

The season is about a week behind schedule but the observer said that a few days of above normal temperatures will bring it up to normal. Corn will be at its customary knee-high stand July 4th if today and tomorrow are real warm, he opined.

Yesterday's rainfall aided the second hay crop and oats that are heading.

Toll

George C. Stewart, council executive vice president. "Extra care must be exerted to meet this extra danger. We ask all drivers to take it easy, to obey the laws and to use common sense and good judgment in their driving."

With fairly pleasant weather in most of the country Sunday, millions of motorists jammed highways en route to outings and vacation spots. In one of the worst crashes, four members of a Kno City, Mo., family were killed when a station wagon in which they and six other persons were riding crashed into a bridge railing near Macon, Mo.

In last year's three-day observance of the Fourth of July, 442 persons were killed in traffic accidents. Other violent deaths included 34 in boating accidents, 126 drownings that did not involve boats, and 110 in miscellaneous type accidents, an over-all toll of 712.

In this year's four-day Memorial Day period, the traffic death toll hit 462, a record for that holiday.

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of accidental deaths for a non-holiday weekend of the same time span as the current holiday weekend, from 6 p. m. Friday June 1 to midnight Tuesday June 20. The death count was 362 traffic, 33 boating, 80 drownings not involving boats and 99 in miscellaneous mishaps for a total of 574.

Hijackers Force Cuban Airliner To Fly To Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Aerial hijackers shot a Cuban militiaman riding as guard aboard a Cuban airliner today and forced the pilot to fly to Miami.

Police threw a cordon around the plane when it landed, and the 16 passengers were hustled into immigration at Miami International Airport. Newsmen were not allowed to talk to them immediately.

The unidentified Cuban pilot reportedly told immigration authorities that the shooting broke out in the cabin a few minutes after he took off on a flight from Havana to Varadero Beach, Cuba.

One hijacker put a gun to the pilot's head and told him to fly to Miami, he said.

An immigration official said three passengers and the crew said they wanted to return to Havana. Thirteen passengers reportedly wanted to remain in Miami.

The militiaman was reported seriously wounded.

Building In Lisbon Damaged by Fire

LISBON—Fire believed caused by children playing with matches damaged the corner of a one-story frame barn at the south end of Nelson Ave. at 3:40 p.m. Sunday.

The building is owned by O. S. Hill & Co. which is undecided whether to make repairs or raze the building. It was used formerly for storage of farm equipment but has been empty for several years.

Jack Hill said the fire had a good start but was extinguished quickly by the volunteer fire department.

Three Fire Alarms Are Answered Here

City firemen were called out twice over the weekend and once early this morning.

A faulty electric motor on a refrigerator at Peoples Drug store, 340 E. State St., caused another fire scare at 4:32 p.m. Sunday. An exhaust fan was also used to clear the store of smoke and fumes.

Hemingway

suffered from high blood pressure and diabetes. He was found dead of a gun wound at his Oak Park home in 1928.

Dr. Carlos Baker of Princeton, a Hemingway scholar, said the father killed himself because of ill health.

Ernest wrote him from Mayo's this spring and said he was suffering from incipient diabetes, kept under control by diet.

"He wrote that his weight had reduced from 220 to 175 pounds and that doctors told him if he kept his weight down he had a good chance of coming back strong," Dr. Baker said.

Dr. Baker said a Hemingway short story, "Fathers and Sons" in which the son is troubled by the father's suicide, was autobiographical.

President Kennedy, a Pulitzer Prize winner himself, said of Hemingway:

"Few Americans had a greater impact on the emotions and attitudes of the American people than Ernest Hemingway. From his first emergence as one of the bright literary stars in Paris during the 20s — as a chronicler of the 'lost generation' which he was to immortalize — he almost single handedly transformed the literature and the ways of thought of men and women in every country in the world."

Hemingway was a rugged outdoorsman even in his youth. After high school Hemingway became a cub reporter for the Kansas City Star, but left soon to become an ambulance driver on the Italian front in World War I.

"A Farewell to Arms," in which Cooper starred when it was made into a movie, was based partially on his war experiences. It was with this novel in 1929 that Hemingway won world renown.

In the Paris of the 1920s, Hemingway became a disciple of Gertrude Stein, who once called his "the lost generation." It was on this theme that Hemingway built his early reputation with his novel, "The Sun Also Rises," in 1926.

Wars always fascinated Hemingway. He entered enthusiastically into the Spanish civil war on the loyalist side.

From this came his brilliant and angry novel, "For Whom the Bell Tolls." Cooper also starred in a movie version of this book.

When World War II broke out, he was again at the front, spending weeks at the regimental headquarters of Col. Charles T. Lanham, later a major general commanding the First Division in Germany. This too resulted in a novel, "Across the River and Into the Trees." Gen. Lanham remembered Hemingway as "enormously brave" through the most dangerous battles.

Hemingway had homes here and in Cuba, where he lived alternately in recent years and wrote "The Old Man and the Sea," which won him a Pulitzer Prize in 1953.

Hemingway lived as lusty a life as any of his fictional characters. When his Nobel Prize was announced in 1954, Hemingway was in a hospital, recovering from an injury he received when his plane crashed on a big game hunting trip in Africa.

A source close to the Royal Swedish Academy of Literature said then the Nobel Prize authorities believed Hemingway would receive the award eventually and "we might as well give it to him now before he kills himself."

John Romano, Temple Make All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Temple, second baseman of the Cleveland Indians, will make All-Star Game history July 11 in San Francisco when he starts for the American League against the National League stars. Temple, four times an All-Star in the National League with the Cincinnati Reds, will be the first player to have been in the starting lineup for both circuits. Several others have been members of both squads but were not starters for both teams. Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees and Willie Mays of San Francisco and Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee were the only repeaters from last year's starters. The Yankees, who also placed shortstop Tony Kubek, were the only club to have three members in the starting lineup. In addition to Temple, Maris, Mantle and Kubek, the other AL starters will be catcher John Romano of Cleveland, first baseman Norm Cash of Detroit, third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore and left fielder Rocky Colavito of Detroit. With Mays and Mathews in the NL lineup will be catcher Smokey Burgess of Pittsburgh, first baseman Bill White of St. Louis, second baseman Frank Bolling of Milwaukee, shortstop Maury Wills of Los Angeles, left fielder Orlando Cepeda of San Francisco and right fielder Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh.

Maris Far Ahead of Homer Record

Orioles Trip Tigers; Yanks Bomb Senators

By The Associated Press

Roger Maris hit his 29th and 30th home runs Sunday as the New York Yankees moved within one game of league-leading Detroit by bombing Washington 13-4 while Baltimore was beating the Tigers 6-3 on Jim Gentile's grand slam homer.

The two homers put Maris eight games ahead of Babe Ruth's 1927 pace when he set the all-time record of 60. Mickey Mantle hit No. 28. Moose Skowron slammed No. 17 and Elston Howard hit No. 4 for the Yanks.

Los Angeles took another fall out of the Chicago White Sox 8-3, scoring six runs in the first two innings for their second straight series victory. Steve Bilko's three-run homer off loser Juan Pizarro in the first got the Angels off winging.

Howser Leads K. C. Kansas City broke a six-game losing streak by edging Minnesota 8-7 on Dick Howser's single with the bases full in the ninth.

Skowron became the first man to hit three balls into the distant leftfield bleachers since Yankee Stadium was built when he hammered a pitch by Johnny Klippstein into the area in the eighth with one on. Only 13 balls have been hit into those bleachers. Mantle's homer was a tape measure job deep into the upper deck in right.

Despite the heavy bombing, Bud Daley needed relief help from Luis Arroyo in the ninth inning of a hot, muggy afternoon. Pete Burnside was the Senators' loser.

Gentile, who set a major league record by hitting successive homers with the bases loaded in the Twins' park May 9 hit his third slammer of the year to beat Detroit. The slugger finished the milk is the lifesaver! When chicken pox or measles hit schools in America it's mildly serious. But in the Congo it's terrifying. The little girls at Mutato school were raised on a diet tragically lacking protein. Low resistance to the simplest diseases invited killers like meningitis and pneumonia. Protein supplement was needed fast... and milk was the answer. It came in time... in the form of powdered milk from America.

This lifesaver was sent by Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this case is Protestant—all three faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain overseas programs that meet such emergencies, as well as provide basic food, clothing, shelter, jobs, education, tools and equipment to the millions in need.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Sleuthing for Child Allergies

Some of the allergic disturbances of childhood are easily recognized. When the sensitizing substance (allergen) is something present only on special occasions, like strawberries or pollen, it's not too difficult to follow a clue. When the effects of the allergen are easily visible, like an attack of hives or an infantile eczema, the nature of the disturbance is strongly suggested by its character.

But when the sensitizing substance is just one of many ingredients of many basic foods acceptable to the child, the clue is more difficult to follow. Such is the situation that prevails in the case of allergic disturbances due to milk, eggs, chocolate and wheat, the most common of the food allergens.

And when these common food allergens produce signs that are vague, the problems of diagnosis and relief or cure are almost impossible of solution.

To illustrate these important points in child health, a group of specialists made a four-year study of food allergies in childhood. Almost without exception, the youngsters suffered ill-defined disturbances. These included easy fatigue, irritability, skin pallor, circles under the eyes, stuffy noses, rebellious behavior, unruliness, lack of interest in school work and in play, sleepiness, crying spells, frequent bellyaches or headaches, excessive perspiration and aches or pains in legs or back.

Parents were apt to report that the child "wasn't herself" or that he or she was "moody" so that they never knew what to expect from hour to hour or day to day.

Now in the case of sensitivity to milk, eggs, chocolate or wheat, it takes a Sherlock Holmes to locate the criminal. First of all, it's not easy to prepare a diet for a youngster and exclude the most suspect of the allergens. Secondly, it's equally difficult to police the child and make sure he doesn't sneak in a candy bar or an ice cream cone or some other goody that contains the suspected allergen.

Nor does it do any good to blame the trouble on a lack of vitamins, emotional instability, anemia, parental neglect or juvenile delinquency.

WHAT HAS TO BE DONE is the type of domestic detective work I've emphasized so very often. The intelligent and conscientious parent must keep a list of every morsel of food or drink that passes the child's lips and, besides the list, entries describing the youngster's reactions and responses. It's easiest to begin with chocolate, then eggs, then wheat, then milk.

When and if the elimination diet provides a definite clue, the next step is to add the suspected allergen so as to deliberately reproduce the distress. To make double sure, repeat both parts of the experiment at least twice.

THAT ACCOMPLISHED, treatment is a cinch. No vitamins, iron pills, psychotherapy, tranquilizers or pep-up pills. Just omission of the proved allergen. And, if that's successful, outside observers, such as the child's teacher may be led to remark, "Why, I don't know what's come over him. He just doesn't seem like the same child."

Matter of Fact

The flag's 50th star was officially added on July 4, 1960, to commemorate Hawaiian statehood. The previous July 4, a star was added for Alaska. But if you have one of the millions of 48-star flags still in existence, fly it proudly. Experts on flag lore say it's a fine, patriotic thing to fly historic flags, as long as they're clean and untattered.

Salem City Hospital Candid Observations
(Twenty-Second Article of a Series on Hospital Information)

No Nuisance Charges

We are in the process of changing our hospital rates so that they fit in with our new management and accounting system. In making these changes one improvement will be the elimination of "nuisance charges."

By this we refer to charges made for several miscellaneous and special items that have more or less become customary charges in hospitals. We intend to limit our charges to the basic hospital services: bed-board-room, surgery, delivery room, nursery, drugs and medicine, laboratory, x-ray, anesthesia, and emergency room.

We shall not charge for: oxygen, recovery room, surgical supplies, dressings and bandage, appliances, fracture and traction equipment, blood transfusion materials, special sterile materials, initial service charge, incubators, circumcisions, Rh factor blood exchange materials, baby pictures, beside radios and visitors coffee and tea.

Patients should now be able to clearly understand statements for service rendered and should no longer be irritated by unexpected charges.

This change is another improvement being made in the public interest.
